

Present perfect

The present perfect is a verb tense which is used to show that an action has taken place once or many times before now. The present perfect is most frequently used to talk about experiences or changes that have taken place, but there are other less common uses as well.

Positive Form

The present perfect is formed using has/have + past participle.

Example:

That fridge has been broken for a while.

Negative Form:

Negatives are made with not.

Example:

I still haven't gotten a check for your half yet.

Question Form

Questions are indicated by inverting the subject and has/have.

Example:

Have you broken that fridge?
